CPYRMA releases 10-year rainfall averages

by Ferrin Cox, Publisher

The Choctawhatchee, Pea and Yellow River Watershed Management Authority has released the ten-year average rainfall for the 23 rain gauges in operation within Southeast Alabama, beginning in 2013 and continuing through 2022.

The Elba average is 53.26 inches, with the high being 62.44 inches in 2013 and the lowest average was 40.72 in 2019. The Elba total for the ten-year period was 532.63 inches.

The highest rainfall in the Elba drainage basin was recorded by the Lowery Mill gauge which registered 75.40 inches in 2017. However, the Arton gauge hit 74.72, also in 2017. Big Creek was bumping up there with a 71.32-inch rainfall that year while the Star Hill gauge in Barbour County, up near the head of Pea River, registered 71.64 inches in 2020.

The greatest rainfall in the District was the Yellow River gauge on U. S 84 in Covington County. It hit 80.80 inches in 2018.

The lowest rainfall in the Pea River drainage area was the 34.12 reading recorded at Folsom Bridge and 35.20 at Lowery Bridge, both in 2019.

The ten-year averages across the district were mostly in the 52 inch through the 59 inch totals. Breaking that ceiling was the Daleville and Sellersville (Geneva County), both got just over the 60-inch average for the ten-year period.

The highest average in the Pea River drainage area North of Elba was Big Creek with 58.54 inches.

The ten-year totals were all in the 500 inch range except the Daleville #1 and Sellersville, both went over 600 inches a bit. Yellow River got close with a 598 total.

Elba Elementary School hosted a "Parents Night" last Tuesday evening, Feb. 7, and during the event, the third and fifth grade students provided a musical performance for the parents (shown above). Also, parents were able to talk with faculty and staff, visit their child's classroom, see their work, and learn how they, the parents, can help in improving their child's ACAP test scores and their grades. School leaders said there was a great turnout for the event, and they enjoyed having all the parents/guardians on campus. "Being involved in your child's education makes all the difference," EES principal Kenya Martin said. She said it takes all working together to achieve full success having so many parents attend the Parent Night event was very encouraging for the teachers and administrators. Also, school leaders said the students seemed to really enjoy having their parents come see their work during the event. This is just one of many events the school hopes to host in an effort to keep parents engaged in their child's education. More photos from the Parents Night event can be found on Page 3 of today's paper.

"It is not enough to win a war; it is more important to organize the peace." - Aristotle

A social media story about a years ago Valentine's Day card triggered a memory from our past. Somewhere in some old box - or folder - we have one such card given (or sent) to our dad and judging from the handwriting it was during his elementary school days. The card is signed by a classmate and is just a plain Valentine's Day card that children send to all their classmates and other friends. We don't know why this card was saved from all those years ago, nor why mother kept it after dad's death, but when we first discovered it, we paused, held it in our hand and let our imagination run wild. We pictured this eight, nine or ten-year old girl passing out cards in class, even assigned her a cotton dress with designs printed on the skirt. Hopefully this card will resurface one day.

The earthquake in Turkey and adjoining Syria have resulted in over 35,000 deaths as of Tuesday morning. Searchers continue to be elated when they dig out another survivor. Last week they found a whole family that had been trapped for over a week. Even as these miracles continue to crop up, unrest in Turkey grows. Many citizens are protesting the government's failure to enforce building codes that could have possibly prevented some recently constructed building from collapsing and taking so many lives. They claim, with the president's blessings, inspectors looked the other way and allowed money-saving shortcuts that compromised the strength of the buildings. This should be a lesson to governments, inspectors, etc., all over the world that lives matter more than anything else.

Social media is at it again! The unexplained appearance, and shooting down, of at least four balloons in the skies of the United States in recent weeks has gotten people's imagination in high gear. Posting about it on social media has exploded like wildfire! Now we are having government officials trying to field questions, and deny the balloons are UFO's. Adding to this fire is the lack of explanations of exactly what, or why, these objects are suddenly appearing in our skies. To say, "we just haven't noticed them before," doesn't make sense, as NORAD and other agencies are constantly scanning the skies, 24-7. Having been inside the NORAD center in Colorado, we know there are banks of computer screens stacked everywhere, constantly recording different parts of the sky and putting out alerts when an unknown blip appears on a monitor.

Elba city officials have not announced any plans for re-establishing any recycling program. The only comments we have heard is that ceasing the recycling didn't increase landfill fees "much". What is not mentioned is the long-term negative impact on the environment... for our children, grandchildren and future generations.

Be safe, wear your mask when appropriate, social distance, wash your hands AND get the shot(s) and/or boosters (the newest one)!

The Moore You Know - Editorial Column from Rep. Barry Moore

(Barry Moore represents the 2nd Congressional District in the U.S. House)

President Biden may think the state of our union is strong, but under the Biden administration, our nation is broke, woke, and an international joke. As his State of the Union address to Congress made clear, he is more focused on increasing the power of Big Government than addressing the concerns of working Americans and families.

Biden barely gave lip service to the border crisis, historic inflation, record crime, skyrocketing energy costs, and our collapsing geopolitical standing instigated by his weak diplomacy and foreign policy blunders - most recently, allowing a Chinese spy balloon to traverse the continental United States. He did not outline a plan to address our economic struggles or the porous border allowing fentanyl into our communities, nor speak meaningfully about our continued subsidization of the war between Russia and Ukraine. The American people deserve to know what the Biden administration will consider 'success,' and how we will get there.

The House Judiciary Committee held its first hearing of the 118th Congress on the Biden border crisis. I was honored to take part and be chosen by Chairman Jim Jordan to chair portions of the hearing. Our witnesses revealed the extent that criminal cartels not just profit, but effectively run our open border, as well as the human cost suffered by border residents, individuals and families of those smuggled or trafficked by the cartels, and Americans in communities all over the nation being impacted by deadly fentanyl coming across the border.

As one of our witnesses, an Arizona sheriff, vividly detailed, law enforcement does not have the resources necessary to do their jobs, and policies from this administration are purposefully hampering their ability to enforce the law. Make no mistake, President Biden owns this border crisis.

Last month I joined several colleagues on the House floor to speak about the hardships many veterans and their families are facing with Tricare. The negotiations between Express Scripts on behalf of the Department of Defense and independently owned pharmacies is leading to it being prohibitively difficult for veterans to get the prescriptions they need. This is unacceptable, and I have been vocal on the need for the DOD to step up and resolve this issue.

As one constituent told my office, our veteran population loves our country, but too often it seems like our country does not love them back. Our government must treat our veterans better.

If you need help from my office with the VA, IRS, or another federal agency, or if we can help you with a government service like processing a passport request, I hope you will reach out to us. We've resolved over 2,200 cases since I took office in 2021. Visit one of my offices in Wetumpka, Dothan, Andalusia, Troy, or Washington, call us at 334-478-6330, or visit barrymoore.house.gov to learn how we can help.

New website helps locate free COVID-19 testing sites

The Alabama Department of Public Health continues to encourage COVID-19 vaccines and boosters in addition to testing and treatment.

A new Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) COVID-19 Testing Locator website allows the public to search and locate free COVID-19 testing sites near them. The site locator is part of the CDC Increasing Community Access to Testing program which focuses on communities at a greater risk of being impacted by the pandemic.

Tests offered may include laboratory-based nucleic acid amplification tests, including polymerase chain reaction tests and rapid antigen point-of-care testing. Results are typically provided within 24-48 hours. Testing is available at pharmacies, commercial laboratory sites, community sites and retail locations.

COVID-19 testing is available at no cost at these sites to people with or without health insurance who are experiencing symptoms or have been exposed to someone with COVID-19. The tests are billed to third-party payers, such as Medicare, Medicaid and private health insurers. People without health insurance do not have to pay for COVID-19 testing at these locations. County health departments also offer COVID-19 testing. Consumers can access the Testing Locator at <https://testinglocator.cdc.gov/>.

Proper Etiquette in Responding to a Friend's Loss on Facebook

Social media helps us feel more connected these days. But what happens, when you are scrolling through your news feed and discover one of your friends has suffered the loss of a loved one?

One of the easiest things you can do is like their post. Now you often have options and can leave a "hug" or "sad face." This can let your friend know you are thinking about them. If you do want to comment on their post, there are some proper etiquette rules you should follow.

Keep it short and sweet. Something simple like, "thinking of you and your family" or "sending love and hugs" will do.

Follow the family's lead. Wait until someone from the immediate family posts something before commenting or posting on your own.

Focus on your friend. Don't talk about your own loss or try to compare what they are going through to something you have been through.

If you knew the person who died, share a short memory or something you admired about the person. Something like, "I'll miss her jokes and stories," or "It will be hard not seeing his smiling face at the office anymore" is good. Don't go overboard and leave a long, detailed message.

Send a private message. If you want to say more, you can always send a private message.

Don't say things like "he's in a better place." Even if you know the beliefs of your friends (and you know this is something they believe as well), in times of grief and loss statements like this may invalidate your friend's feelings. Give your friend room to grieve however that happens for them. Don't ask questions. This isn't the time or place to ask what happened. Stick to words that will comfort your friend.

Don't tag the deceased. While it might feel like you are honoring the deceased, it may be an unwelcome reminder for others. And keep in mind that whatever you post on the deceased's wall will be viewable to all their friends and family members.

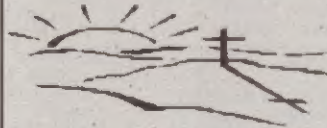

Most importantly, remember to keep checking in on your friend. The impact of the loss of a loved one is felt forever. Make sure to check in on your friend in the weeks and months after the loss and offer support, even if it's through a Facebook message.

CHURCH & LOCAL NEWS

PASTOR'S CORNER

by Dwight Johnson, Pastor
Elba First Assembly of God

Occasionally, while preaching, I will say something that immediately makes me think "Where did that come from?". These are times when something is said that has to come from God, because I'm not smart enough for it to come from me. A while back, I began making a list of things to use as a resource when needed. One of those I will use today: "Worship isn't determined by how things are, but by who God is."

So many things in life change. We have highs and lows, good times and bad. We have seasons of great victories, and times of seeming defeat. Circumstances change, people change. Political leaders change. Culture changes. With the swirls of uncertainty and the winds of change, we need something to hold on to; something that will keep us stable. We need someone who is unchanging; someone we can count on. Someone who is worthy of our worship. That is why our worship is directed to God, and with great confidence.

The book of Hebrews was written to a group of disillusioned, discouraged Christians. Things had been tough, and they were thinking about stepping back from Jesus, and settling for their former way of life. The writer's theme was, in essence, "You have been looking at circumstances, and not at Jesus. Jesus is worthy of your worship." In Hebrews 13:8 he (or she) reminded the group that "Jesus Christ is the same yesterday, today, and forever." Life changes. Jesus never has, and never will! At Hebrews 6:17-19 we read "God also bound himself with an oath, so that those who received the promise could be perfectly sure that he would never change his mind. So God has given both his promise and his oath. These two things are unchangeable because it is impossible for God to lie. Therefore, we who have fled to him for refuge can have great confidence as we hold to the hope that lies before us. This hope is a strong and trustworthy anchor for our souls."

That is a lot of encouragement. That is a lot of truth! That is why "Worship isn't determined by how things are, but by who God is."

Seniors age 60 and older encouraged to get active with Elba Senior Center

Seniors age 60 and older are encouraged to attend the Elba Senior Citizens Center.

Along with nutritious meals five days a week, the director works with seniors to help them apply for several programs they may qualify, including Farmers Market Vouchers, HRDC- Energy Assistance, Food Assistance, Medicaid Waiver, Senior Rx Program, Medicare Savings Program, etc. Seniors must be an active participant at the Elba Senior center for the director to sign them up for the qualifying programs.

To become a center participant, attendance is not based on income. This is a social place to come have fun and find or make new friends. If interested in joining the center stop by or call (334) 897-3019. The center is located at 304 N. Factory Ave. (across from the Elba Police Department).

Seniors age 60 and older that cannot come to the center may qualify for meals being brought to their home.

For questions, call center director Donna Falls at (334) 897-3019.

Celebrating Black History Month with Accomplishments by The Williams Sisters Acing Sisterhood

The Williams sisters know tennis. Together Serena and Venus Williams have dominated the women's field, winning 14 Grand Slam doubles titles. They both excel in singles competition as well, although the younger sister has been the brighter star. As of this writing, Serena has won a staggering 73 singles titles while Venus has 49 of her own. Serena's relatively greater successes could have made Venus bitter. The 19-12 record of Serena's wins against Venus in head-to-head matches could have soured their relationship. Instead, the competition seems to fuel their continued excellence. Both sisters understand the struggles of performing at the highest level of their sport. Instead of giving in to jealousy over their relative successes, the sisters demonstrate their love by cheering each other on, always hoping for the others success.

What an example of sibling love! But we know that many siblings do not take joy in the other's accomplishments. A lot of siblings do not explore a relationship like Serena and Venus have. It's sad to say that sometimes evil takes root in the heart of siblings. - Standard Publishing (Part of the David C Cook Family)

SARCOA program on inflation set for Feb. 22nd at Elba Sr. Citizens Center

SARCOA [South Alabama Regional Council on Aging] will host an "Inflation Fighting Program" at the Elba Senior Citizens Center on Wednesday, Feb. 22, from 11:30 a.m. until 1 p.m. The Elba Senior Center is located at 304 Factory Avenue, Elba.

Inflation is creating hardships for many. Every day, the cost of groceries, gasoline, prescription drugs, medical care and cable continues to rise.

There are programs for lower income older adults than can potentially add money back into one's wallet.

This program is open to anyone in the community. It is not limited to senior center participants.

"Make plans to come see what programs might be beneficial to you," said Elba Senior Center director Donna Falls.

The Pressbox

Maybe I can be a reading coach. I am still a little leery to try and help our grandson Lawson with his math homework, but one afternoon last week I was assigned to help with a reading passage, and since it was relatively short I got him to read it aloud to me and then I read it aloud to him before we sat down and discussed what we had read. Hey, the next day at school he made 100 on his reading test. At least for one day 'ole granddaddy and Lawson worked well together.

For what it is worth

 The Elba Tigers saw their season end last week with a loss in the semifinals of the area tournament, and while it was a disappointing end to the season, the Tigers rolled up 17 wins and set the foundation for teams to follow as they posted a winning season for the first time in quite some time. Back before the season started no one really knew what to expect, but after a slow start the team began to jell and with a different unsung hero stepping forward almost every night a team was born that returned Elba to its winning ways of the past. Coach Prestwood had to push aside some of his beliefs to instill an offense and defense that wasn't always pretty, but was one in that gave the players their best chance at winning, and he and his team is to be congratulated for the making basketball fun to watch, again.

 The Elba Lady Tigers improved their record against area opponents to 10-0 last week with a stroll through the area tournament that improved their overall record to 22-6 and kept the Lady Tigers circled statewide as a team to keep an eye on. The Elba girls dominated from start to finish in a win over county rival Kinston, then refused to allow their fans to leave early in the finals as they waited until the second half to put their foot on the gas and raced to another big win. Much like the boys, the Lady Tigers were pretty much an unknown quantity before the season began, but quickly came together after a slow start and never looked back as they moved into the statewide rankings and never left. Some nights it is hard to really understand what we actually witness from the Lady Tigers, but one thig that is understood is they know how to win.

 The area tournaments are now in the books and it was an exciting week of basketball action as the Brantley Bulldogs won their area tournament, while the Zion Chapel Rebels and New Brockton Lady Gamecocks both advanced with runner-up finishes. Brantley had to travel for its area tourney after losing a coin flip to Florala, but made it clear the Bulldogs were the top team in the event as they posted two impressive wins. Zion Chapel stunned Luverne in its area tourney to earn a spot in the sub-region field and proved what I had been saying all season long that the Rebels could beat any team on their schedule on any given night and played as hard as any team in the state for all four quarters. New Brockton snapped a long losing streak early in the season and added a little icing on the cake as the Lady Gamecocks advanced to the area finals to punch their ticket to the sub-region round. The three teams that earned the right to move on all deserve a lot of credit for their hard work and dedication, but the same can also be said about the area teams that didn't make it out of the area. Among the boys, Kinston had a successful season and always battled until the final horn, while New Brockton began the road back to being winners on the court and set the foundation for seasons to come. Over with the girls, Brantley was young, but was always ready for the challenge and was a team no one really wanted to play, while Zion Chapel won some games late in the season and probably improved more than any team around, and Kinston played a very competitive schedule, but never backed down and made their fans proud. Don't believe the records, there were no losers in the area this season!

 I have to admit I was less than excited last week when the news broke out of Tuscaloosa that Tommy Rees had been named the new offensive coordinator at Alabama and Kevin Steele had been named the new defensive coordinator. I was hoping the Tide would make a splash with the hires and get coordinators that would pump new life into the program, but in my opinion both were brought in to simply say "Yes Sir" to Nick Saban, and it looks like Saban wants to have as much say about the offense as the defense. Despite scoring almost fifty points a game ever since Lane Kiffin was hired years ago, Saban never really liked the spread offensive style and wanted to run the ball more. No doubt Rees will do just what his coach wants and will attempt to turn the Tide into a running team, despite having a roster filled with speedy receivers and light, shift running backs. Over on defense, Steele is simply a retard that will be making his third stop at Tuscaloosa and will be looking to make it his final stop as he nears retirement age. I hope the Tide rises again and Bama wins a conference and national title. However, I think Saban is just trying to prove that his way is what is best way at Bama and will do it his way as long as he is in charge.

 Last week was a made for TV weekend with the NFL hosting a 'flag football' game for its league all-stars and NASCAR staging a race inside an aged football stadium to give fans a break from what I guess was supposed to be a music concert. The NFL found out long ago that while none of its players wanted to compete in a 'Pro Bowl,' it could still sell millions of dollars in commercials even if the game was a joke. As for NASCAR, a race in which cars speed around a short track at 50 mph and can't pass without contact is also a joke. Maybe next year ESPN will televise live balloon races from China.

Improve record to 22-6

Lady Tigers win area tournament

The Elba Lady Tigers continued their dominance over area foes and added the area tournament title to their regular season crown with a pair of impressive wins last week at the Class 1A, Area 2 Basketball Tournament, in Elba.

Following is recap of the two tournament wins that improved Elba's record to 22-6:

Elba 63 Kinston 28

The Elba Lady Tigers never trailed in a dominating 63-28 win over the Kinston Lady Bulldogs, in semifinal action.

Elba jumped out to an early 4-0 lead behind the scoring of A'Lyric Whitfield, and while Kinston did pull within 4-3 with 5:31 left in the first quarter on a three-pointer by Rachel Hall, the Lady Tigers used a 9-0 run to stretch their lead to 13-3 and carried a 20-8 lead into the second stanza. Whitfield sparked a 6-0 run to open the second quarter as Elba's lead ballooned to 26-8, and the Lady Tigers outscored Kinston 9-4 in the closing minutes to open up a 40-17 halftime bulge.

The Elba lead continued to grow early in the third quarter behind the play of Tajah Purvis and reached 46-17 with 3:21 left in the quarter, while Whitfield added nine points in the fourth quarter as the Lady Tigers posted the impressive 63-28 win.

A'Lyric Whitfield scored 37 points to lead Elba, while also scoring for the Lady Tigers were Ana Caldwell 7, Tajah Purvis 6, Ny'Asia McCollough 4, Kendra Juarez 3, Deedee Lockett 2, Sydney Siler 2, Yada Caldwell 2 and Alayvia Stinson 2.

Kaley Norris scored 17 points to lead Kinston, while also scoring for the Lady Bulldogs were Maggie Martin 6, Rachel Hall 3 and Lauren Norris 2.

Elba 58 Florala 40

The Elba Lady Tigers pulled ahead late in the second quarter and then pulled away early in the second half to claim a big 58-40 win over the Florala Lady Wildcats, in the tourney finals.

Elba came out fast and behind the play of A'Lyric Whitfield and Alayvia Stinson opened up a 12-5 lead with 11-seconds remaining in the quarter, only to see Florala rally early in the second stanza and use a 13-3 to grab an 18-15 advantage midway through the quarter. The Lady Wildcats still led 25-23 with 1:18 left in the half, but a three-pointer by A'Lyric Whitfield a basket by Brooke Tinsley at the buzzer enabled Elba to carry a 28-25 lead in at intermission.

Kendra Juarez and A'Lyric Whitfield sparked an 11-0 Lady Tiger run early in the third quarter to push the lead to 39-25, while a 9-0 run early in the fourth quarter help the Lady Tigers take a commanding 52-33 lead with 4:19 left on t clock, and Elba coasted in with the impressive win.

A'Lyric Whitfield scored 26 points to lead Elba, while also scoring for the Lady Tigers were Kendra Juarez 11, Alayvia Stinson 8, Ana Caldwell 4, Yada Caldwell 4, Ny'Asia McCollough 3 and Brooke Tinsley 2. Alyssa Thames scored 16 points to lead Florala.

Elba falls in semifinals, ends season with 17-14 record

The Elba Tigers posted a big 63-30 win over Houston County to advance to the second round of the Class 1A, Area 2 Basketball Tournament, but saw a combination of missed free throws and turnovers spoil an upset bid in the semifinals in a 51-37 loss to Florala as the Tigers closed the season with a 17-14 record.

Following is a recap of the tournament action:

Elba 63 Houston Co. 30

The Elba Tigers pulled ahead in the second quarter and pulled away in the second half to down the Houston County Lions 63-30, in opening round action.

Elba came out ready to play and behind the play of Alvin Henderson raced out to an 11-0 lead with 3:27 remaining in the quarter, but failed to score the rest of the stanza as the Lions rallied to pull even at 11-11 heading into the second quarter. Jacob Watkins ignited a 7-0 run early in the quarter to help the Tigers take a 20-13 lead, and at the half Elba went in with a 28-19 advantage.

Jacob Watkins scored the Tigers first 11 points of the third quarter as Elba stretched its lead to 37-21 midway through the stanza, while Cayden Adkins closed the quarter with four points as the Tigers carried a big 47-26 lead into the final stanza. Houston County managed only four points in the fourth quarter as its shots failed to fall, but the Tigers never slowed down and Cody Gray scored seven points in the stanza as Elba pulled away and posted the 63-30 win.

Jacob Watkins scored 18 points to lead Elba, while also scoring for the Tigers were Cody Gray 12, Cayden Adkins 11, JT Coleman 4, Alvin Henderson 4, Cameron Gray 4, Ty Sieving 4, Jamal Siler 4 and Taylon Purvis 2. DJ Jones scored 8 points to lead Houston County.

Florala 51 Elba 37

The Elba Tigers failed to connect on all six free throw opportunities in the fourth quarter, while Florala connected on 9 of 12 shots from the foul line as the top-seeded Wildcats pulled away late to defeat the Tigers 51-37, in semifinal action.

Elba missed all five three-point attempts in the opening quarter and trailed 7-3 heading into quarter number two, but Cameron Gray and JT Coleman both found their shooting touch early in the stanza and drained three pointers as the Tigers used a 10-2 run to grab a 13-9 lead with 4:43 remaining on the clock. Florala rallied to regain the lead at 16-13 with 3:31 left in the quarter, but the Tigers refused to go away at intermission trailed only 21-19.

Florala came out on a 7-0 run to open the third quarter to extend its lead to 28-19, only to see Elba rally once again, and led by the play of Cameron Gray and JT Coleman pulled within 30-29 with 1:46 left in the half. The Tigers had a chance to move back in front, but missed a pair of free-throws with less than a minute on the clock and Florala scored late to open up a 34-29 lead with one quarter remaining. The Tigers were still within 37-31 after a put back by Jamal Siler, but Elba began to turn the ball over and could only watch as Florala began a parade to the free throw line, and made the most of the opportunities, as the Wildcats closed the game with a 14-3 run to claim the 51-37 win.

Zion Chapel's Padgett/Young bass fishing team gets taste of Florida's Harris Chain of Lakes

A new and challenging adventure awaited the Zion Chapel Bass Team the weekend of January 27, 28, and 29 of 2023. Their first tournament of the year was quite different from any in the past.

During the past three seasons, they have fished outside of the state of Alabama only once, NATIONALS at Lake Chicamauga, Tennessee. Avery Padgett and Ethan Young were excited to be one of 25 Alabama teams to compete in the Strike King Lure Company BASSMASTER Open Series at the Harris Chain of Lakes in Leesburg, Florida, presented by Academy Sports + Outdoors.

The Harris Chain of Lakes in Lake and Orange Counties, Florida, is composed of eight primary lakes (Apopka, Harris, Griffin, Eustis, Dora, Beauclair, Carlton, and Yale) totaling approximately 75,000 acres. Located northwest of Orlando, the Harris Chain of Lakes offers excellent fishing opportunities for all anglers with over 30 public boat ramps and numerous public fishing piers.

This was the first BASSMASTER Open Tournament for the 2023 season. Teams representing 15 states were among the 144 teams registered.

As Avery Padgett said, he and Ethan Young got their first taste of the chain.

"She definitely wasn't easy on us after only catching one keeper in practice, but we managed to snatch five keepers on Sunday," said Padgett.

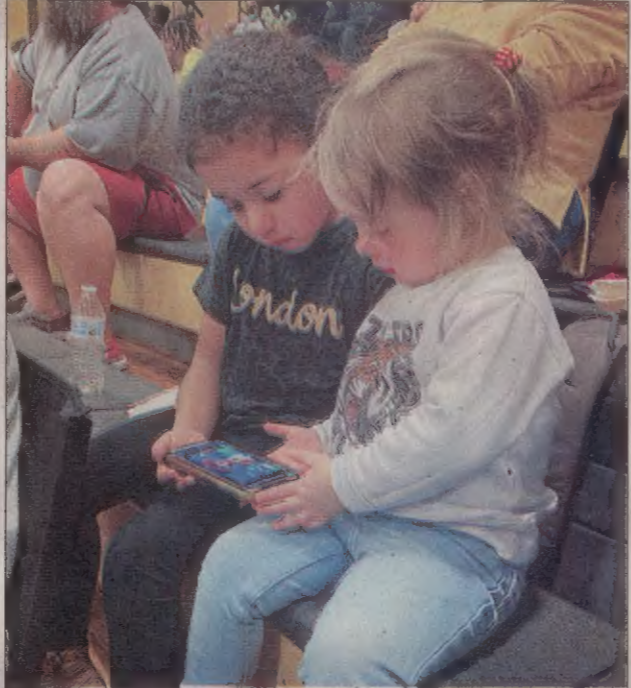

Team Padgett and Young finished 65th out of 144 boats; 41 boats did not even weigh in. Of course, the top teams were all from Florida who were finishing on their own turf.

Although the ZC team missed the cut for NATIONALS by only a couple of pounds, this was a commendable showing for their first time on this series of lakes. Padgett declared this was a good experience for a new place and thanked his dad for being their captain on these uncharted waters.

The ZC Bass Team was back on the BASS Nation Tiger Division Trail February 11, 2023, at Lake Eufaula, and they will fish the BASSMASTER Open Tournament February 25 at Lay Lake, Clanton, Alabama.
